VOICE OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

. No. 106 Wednesday, March 20, 1957 Provo, Utah

egistration Speeded nder New Procedure

Tuesday's registration, desed as one of the best, by Crandall, dean of admiss and registrar, as 4,700 ents whisked through their sign-up ordeal by 2 p m.

Lines moved with a minimum of congestion because of a new method of distributing class cards. The only congestion foreseen by Crandall could be caused by a large number of students who did not pre-register and will be required to register late.

Procedures for late registration are to be much the same as in previous quarters, according to Crandall.

Students may register late daily beginning Wednesday until March 24 from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Late registration will take place in the Smith Ballroom. A late fee of $5 will be charged.

First changes in registration will be accepted beginning at 8 a. m. Friday in the Smith Ballroom. After March 25 students will be required to pay a fee of $1 per class for classes added or dropped.

Crandall stated that the university plans to strictly enforce its class attendance regulations. Whoever a student remains absent from class for a period of a week. An absence report form will be sent to the student's department chairman.

Candidates See Controversies Concerning Constitution, Time

udentbody, class, and As- ted Men Students will hold ary elections March 26 and Campaigning begins Tues-received much debate during the airing of the bill.

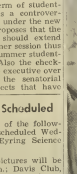
McKay mentioned the dedication of time pertaining to executive officers. Whether a president should be required to affiliated, or active in other organizations involve this implication of time.

Candidates will be confronted periodically by Daily Universe reporters concerning such issues during this election. According to Marie Murphy, Daily Universe Editor, it is the aim of the paper to give the students full and objective coverage of candidates so they may vote wisely.



TOO MANY HOURS?—During registration in Smith Fieldhouse Tuesday, many students had to rearrange schedules but the confusion of obtaining class cards was minimized by new procedures.

Nixon Visit Termed Important

TUNIS — (UP) — What began as a "rest stop" in Uganda became for Vice President Richard M. Nixon one of the most important visits of his three-week, African tour.

For, in Uganda, he had a brief but close look at the British Protectorate which all African diplomatic observers say will be next on the "independence" list.

In recognition of this probability, the U. S. is opening a consulate and an information service mission in Kampala this spring.

British and Americans alike believe that Uganda will be the next African state to follow in the footsteps of Ghana. The latter, until March 6 known as the Gold Coast, is now on its own as an independent member of the British Commonwealth of nations.

UN Sends 'Dag'. To Talk Over New Arab-Israeli Hostilities

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —(UP) —Dag Hammarskjold flew to the tinderbox Middle East Tuesday for showdown "summit" talks he hopes will avert a new outbreak of Arab-Israeli hostilities.

The Secretary General emplaned on the urgent peace mission after long rounds of conferences at U. N. headquarters with U. S., Israeli, Egyptian and British diplomats, and a final meeting with his seven-nation advisory committee on the U N emergency force.

He declared in an airport statement:

"Now, however, it would be useful to visit Cairo for further exploratory talks and for clarification of pending questions to the extent that is possible at this stage."

The Swedish peacemaker made it clear that while his first aim is settlement of the critical Gaza Strip problem, he is undertaking the mission in an effort to achieve concrete results on other "issues of immediate practical significance."

These include the Suez Canal problem, the Gulf of Aqaba shipping question and the future role of the UNEF.

Hammarskjold will begin his showdown talks with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser after arriving in Cairo at 12:40 p. m. (Cairo time) Thursday. He is traveling by Belgian Sabena Airlines and will stop over at Brussels and Athens.

He indicated strongly that he would visit Jerusalem following the Cairo talks for similar face-to-face discussions with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion on the great unresolved issues of the explosive area.

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir has warned that Israel never will accept the presence of a "belligerent" Egypt in Gaza.

She has demanded that Hammarskjold and other "responsible" officials tell Nasser to get his civilian administrators out of the 123-square mile Mediterranean corridor and bar approaching Egyptian army units from the area.

Two ROTC Cadets Win Monthly Title

Two Brigham Young University Air Force ROTC cadets were honored at the commissioning ceremonies this week as "Cadets of the Month" for February.

Cadet David K. Hart, advanced cadet from Boise, Ida., Cadet Gary L. Cox, basic cadet from Wendell, Ida., were each presented with a 17-jewel wrist watch donated by Fisher Smith Jewelry Company of Provo.

Every month during the school year merchants of Provo have pledged to award a gift to the Cadet of the Month. The honor students are selected for their academic grades, leadership ability, cadet board selection, and by their classmates. Members of the Air Force ROTC faculty are final approving and selection authority.

Presentation of the watches was made by Colonel Barnett S. Allen, professor of air science.

YOU'RE AN ANGEL—Gary Stewart realizes that Mary Ann Nelson, as the "Angel in a Pawnshop" has brought many changes into his life. The drama is the latest production of the dramatics department.

Pawnshop Production Opens Wednesday

Brigham Young University's next major dramatic production, "Angel in the Pawnshop," opens Wednesday for a three-night run.

Hilary, the tired owner of a pawnshop, suffering from a bad heart and a cynical attitude toward people he meets in the course of business transactions, soon meets Lizzie who changes old Hilary with a mystical quality and bends him to her way of things.

The two prevail against the influences of a policeman, a drunk, a young socialite, a medical student and a clarinet player and writer who are all attempting to take advantage of the new "get soft" policy the angel has forced on Hilary.

Carl Markwerth is cast in the role of Hilary. Opposite him in the role of Lizzie Shaw, the angel, is Mary Ann Nelson.

The rest of the cast included Charles Whitman, Donny O'Keefe, Roger Brown, Brad Powell, Duke Jones, Ron Matson, Timothy Spangle, Gary Stewart, Joe Kirk, Dick Walsh, Priscilla Nash and Bonnadean Petty.

- Written by A. B. Shiffrin, "Angel in the Pawnshop enjoyed a successful run on Broadway.
- Assistant director Lael J Woodbury is Robert Struthers as Technical director and Dorothy Whittaker as costume director. Tickets are available at the information desk in the Smith Building.

Monetary Grants Made Available Until April

All Brigham Young University students who are interested in applying for scholarships should do so immediately according to Selby G. Clark, Academic Standards chairman

Scholarships are awarded for one quarter's tuition and fees and are renewable up to a maximum of one year upon the maintenance of a 3.5 grade-point average.

Freshmen who come to BYU on one-year scholarships are not automatically eligible for renewal of their scholarships, but must re-apply. The deadline for application is April 1.

Scholarship applications are available at the Office of Scholarship and Loans Form "B" and form "C" should be turned in along with an official transcript of academic credit up to and including winter quarter of 1956-57.

SPRING BRINGS NEW BLOOD

With Tuesday's issue the Daily Universe is ... new editorial management, and there ... an editorial pat on the back for a job well ... by the past staff. It is hoped that the ... monthly, fanfare and demonstration ... of both the change and the following ... statement.

NINE POINT PLAN

1. It is our aim that the community of Brigham Young University be as fully informed on all campus happenings as is humanly possible. With an eye to the future, we anticipate the day when Daily Universe readers will be thoroughly informed on events, both campus and worldwide.

2. The Daily Universe will adhere to good taste and the standards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in news stories, editorials, cartoons and advertisements.

3. The Daily Universe policy will be constructive by nature. This newspaper is one hundred per cent behind everything BYU has and downs are ours. However when room for constructive criticism is evident, we shall endeavor to improve or bring to mind that which is lacking.

4. All worthy projects of studentbody and administration will be supported by this newspaper.

Repressed emotions are released through dancing. And along this same line of thought, a Yakima Valley Junior College (Yakima, Wash.) freshman feels the music keeps the teenagers busy and "out of trouble." It has good rhythm and provides good music for dancing." But the comment of a Tyler Junior College (Tyler, Texas) freshman rocked. And an Ohio University (Athens) freshman states "It's good, it's the up-and-coming thing for teen-agers."

"Poor Music"

"It's poor music—if you can call it music," is how a Wake Forest College (Winston-Salem, N.C.) junior feels within a junior at the Rochester Institute of Technology (Rochester, N.Y.) believes the "bad effect is only temporary, it won't last." But a more pessimistic viewpoint is really portrayed by a freshman coed at Syracuse University who says: "We're all decaying."

OBJECTIVE COVERAGE OF NEWS

5. With pressed facilities and human error taken into account, the Daily Universe will seek to give full, objective coverage of the news. Stringent measures will be taken to omit erroin, both typographical and informational. The editorial staff will endeavor to profollow with each issue a perfect example of high-quality journalism.

6. Our doors are always open to anyone, student, faculty or administrator, who wishes to discuss any matter pertaining to this paper or the university.

7. We welcome letters to the editor and feel that they are vital in abetting our role as the voice of BYU. Letters will not be accepted if they are over 200 words in length, or if they are unsigned. Upon request, names will be withheld from publication, but will remain on file.

ADVICE, CRITICISM ASKED

8. We shall appreciate advice, criticism, and contributions from our readers. Contributions, of course, are subject to editing.

9. The editor assumes full responsibility for all unsigned matter appearing on the editorial page. Honesty will be by-word with all editorials. We feel that our audience is worthy of writing on a high plane, and an effort will be made to give every reader, Ph.D. or student, food for thought.

Solons Search Labor Rackets

by Robert E. Thompson

WASHINGTON, ... — Senate investigators heard evidence Tuesday that Teamsters Union ... duces were used to pay travel and ... hotel expenses for labor boss Frank W. Brewster's private ... jockey and horse trainer.

The senate committee investigating labor-management rackets also was told that union funds were used to pay for repairs on Brewster's six-horse ... motor van and for expenses of ... its driver.

Brewster said he couldn't remember the payments. He ... admitted the trainer did a good ... but he swore he would repay any funds he owed the union "within 60 days."

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D. Ark., asked him: "How do you expect to reimburse the union? If it were not for this investigation, you wouldn't know you'd done it. Your records have been destroyed. It raises some pretty strong suspicions of what the records would show if available."

SHADES OF ESTES KEFAUVER

Shades of Estes Kefauver! The Senators from Washington are at it again, this time under the fancy moniker of the Senate's select committee on Labor and Management Practices, headed by Senator John McClellan.

BECK IS ON CARPET

On the carpet this time is Dave Beck's International Brotherhood of Teamsters. The rap? An "innocent misunderstanding" involving charges of attempting a pinball monopoly, having interests in houses of prostitution, and "investments" of union funds for the favors of public servants, including Portland's district attorney.

And talking about Portland, three cheers to the Portland Oregonian's two outstanding reporters who exposed corrupted Teamsters' influence in Oregon.

When this investigating committee finishes probing Portland, it moves to New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, and other cities. Once again the Senate is going through the motions of conducting up corruption, and once again it remains to be seen how much will actually be accomplished.

LABOR MUST BE PROTECTED

Since the AFL-CIO merger creates the largest single element of power in the United States, it is imperative that labor be protected from the designs of racketeers and politicians.

Congress, in the past, has failed to legislate such protective measures, and each succeeding investigation has strengthened the position of the racketeers by failing to bring about such legislature.

If dirty labor and politics prove they're too big for the McClellan committee, who else is big enough to stop them, or will they ever be stopped? If these Senators are to do better than their predecessors, adequate legislature must be forthcoming or this committee, too, will be nothing more than a whitewash.

These labor parasites must have the opportunity to destroy honest labor politics to ... sign away from them. Teamsters v.p. Jimmy Hoffa, for instance, has been investigated by six previous committees, yet still maintain a high-paying, second-in-command position.

Unfortunately, pay increases too often constitute short-range benefits, overlooking dirty tactics and politics. When honest objections arise, they are silenced in the wake of these same strong-arm tactics.

DAVE BECK'S HOME

Individual crusades can do little in themselves, especially when operations are illegal though unrighteous by every moral obligation due honest workers. Such "legal" procedures for instance, as Teamsters prexy Dave Beck building a $100,000 home, to have the union buy it from him for $169,000 (plus a reported $90,000 for furnishings) and let him live in it for life.

It's up to Chairman McClellan and his committee who have a long way to go, in every sense of the word. Will honest labor finally get help when it's all over, or will there just be another eternity of hope?—BOB KOENIG.

Dancing Group Plans National Festival Visits

Plans and a new repertoire are being prepared at regular rehearsals for Brigham Young University's traveling International Folk Dancers to be ambassadors at national dance festivals, and at activities of ethnic groups.

Basketball halftime shows, civic events, church programs and other presentations have been the major activities for the group which was formed a year ago.

The dancers have especially been popular with groups which are sponsors of foreign culture advancement.

Dances which the club specialize in are those of all European countries and the near East. Far Eastern dance units are also performed by a few of the members.

At the present time, Mrs. Mary B. Jensen of the physical education department for women is sponsor and leader of the group.

Secretary Interviews Set

Studentbody receptionist and secretarial interviews will be held Thursday from 4 to 5.30 p. m. in the Student Council Conference Room.

All girls interested in this pleasant-time-paying job should sign up again if they so desire. If unable to attend interviews please contact Willis Bryant in the studentbody offices

Profs Discuss Issues on TV

Eighteen Brigham Young University professors will be featured on a ten program television series titled "Great Issues in American Politics" which started Monday.

The series is to be presented over Salt Lake City television station KUTV every Monday at 12 p. m. until May 20.

Vital subjects from revolutionary to present times will be discussed. Subjects for discussion include: The Battle Over the Declaration of Independence. The Battle Over Slavery. The Battle Over Big Business, and The Battle Over American Foreign Policy.

Cat Cagers Have Great Year

Statistics point out that Brigham Young University's basketballers, a "building team," in the words of Coach Stan Watts, will go down as one of the greatest in BYU history, according to the Cougar coach.

The Wattsmen tackled one of the most imposing schedules ever taken on at Brigham Young and finished with a 19-6 overall record, 11-3 championship league mark, drawing an average of nearly 8,000 spectators per home game.

Watts was named "coach of the year" for the Rocky Mountain Conference, Johnny Benson and Tom Steinke made everybody's all-conference teams, Steinke being named to the little All-American five, while Benson was first five on the Far Western NCAA all-tournament team.

Steinke's 19.6 average is an all-time BYU high. Benson's 906 three-year total makes him one of the Cat scoring immortals, as well as being top rebounder with 317 this season.

BYU Gridders Await Spring Practice Drill

by Larry Woodard

BYU's football squad starts spring practice Monday and Head Coach Harold Kopp has big plans for making the workouts of great value toward building next year's team.

Uniforms will be issued all this week. When Monday rolls around, "We can get down to busness", the head mentor said as if he were preparing for the Utah game already.

There will be two intra-squad games this spr Those faithful fans who a looking forward to next fa gridiron festivities will least have a chance to warmed up at their arm-cl quarterbacking.

Coach Kopp is reluctar single out any individuals those he is expecting to ba stalwarts "We haven't pl the team yet. Even last ye regulars will have to ' themselves."

Harry Anderson will ha choose between football a track. If he competes in any sport four years, his eligibi is up. He has already comp three track seasons "It wi Harry's decision," the coach thoughtfully. "But we're sa could help us."
